Faculty Research News

Grants

Larry Neal, Professor of Economics, has been awarded a grant from the National Science Foundation, for a three-year study entitled “How the First Emerging Market Re-Emerged after Financial Collapse.”

Elizabeth Powers, Assistant Professor of Economics and the Institute of Government and Public Affairs, was awarded $92,760 over three years by the University of Illinois Disability Research Institute to conduct research on “Facilitating the Transition to Employment of Childhood SSI Beneficiaries and Other Children with Disabilities.”

The National Science Foundation recently awarded Madhu Viswanathan, Associate Professor of Business Administration, nearly $59,000 over two years for a study of “The Illiterate Consumer in the Global Market Place.”

In June, J. Fred Giertz, Professor of Economics and the Institute of Government and Public Affairs was awarded a grant for $16,500 from the Center for Tax and Budget Accountability in Chicago to research Illinois tax policy in a study titled, “Possible Structural Changes in the Illinois Tax System.”

Rashree Agarwal, Assistant Professor of Business Administration, received two grants from the Campus Research Board totaling $19,670. She also received a College of Business Summer Grant for $1,612.

Joseph Mahoney, Associate Professor of Business Administration, and Rajshree Agarwal have been awarded a grant from the Campus Research Board for a study, “Incorporating Property Rights and Resource-Based Theory: An Experiment to Assess Potential and Realized Value Differentials for Common Pool Resources” to be conducted during the 2002-2003 academic year.

Honors and Awards

Jeffrey Brown, Assistant Professor of Finance and former senior economist of the Whitehouse Council of Economic Advisors, has been elected a member of the National Academy of Social Insurance, a nonprofit organization of the nation’s leading experts on social insurance.

Glenn Hoetker, Assistant Professor of Business Administration, won the Outstanding Dissertation Award from the Business Policy and Strategy Division of the Academy of Management for his University of Michigan dissertation, “The role of technical and relational capabilities in the selection of suppliers for technically innovative components in the U.S. and Japan.”

Charles Kahn, Professor of Finance, received the 2002 Dean’s Excellence in Research Award for tenured faculty for work produced in the past five years.

Elizabeth Powers received the 2002 Dean’s Excellence in Research Award for untenured faculty for her research production to date.

Other Scholarly Accomplishments

Joseph Mahoney has been elected to the Executive Committee of Business Policy and Strategy Division of the Academy of Management, 2002-2003.

Elizabeth Powers was named a Research Affiliate of the Northwestern University/ University of Chicago Joint Center for Poverty Research in August.

Theodore Sougiannis, Associate Professor of Accountancy, has been named to the editorial board of Accounting Review.

Nicholas Yannelis, Professor of Economics, with three Stanford economists, Nobel Laureate Kenneth J. Arrow, Peter Hammond, and Felix Kubler and Roko Aliprantis of Purdue University organized two events at Stanford University from July 27-August 3. The first was a program on “Stochastic Models of Dynamic Economic Equilibrium,” sponsored by the Stanford Institute of Theoretical Economics, and a conference in honor of Mordecai Kurz, Joan Kenney Professor of Economics at Stanford. The proceedings of the conference will appear as a book edited by the organizers.

Recent Publications

Ira Solomon, Professor of Accountancy, with T. Bell, eds., Cases in Strategic Systems Auditing, KPMG LLP, 2002.

For further information about faculty members included in this news listing, consult Faculty Profiles. http://www.cba.uiuc.edu/faculty/profccba.html#A.